

Data health center

Uncover TAM, market gap, & more leads

The data health center enables you to unlock your total addressable market (TAM) and identify new market opportunities. Monitor your data health and identify the gap between your existing contact and account data and the new data Apollo can provide you.

“

“Apollo continue to innovate new ways to segment your total addressable market (TAM) and uncover new opportunities that you didn't realize were sitting right there.”

Increase revenue & improve GTM efficiency

Generate more sales opportunities

Capture your market potential with accurate and up-to-date data using Apollo's growing database.

Improve your data depth & breadth

Easily update stale data and save new leads in bulk to improve your data coverage.

Build a trusted CRM & improve team efficiency

Keep your CRM updated with fresh and accurate data, saving you time and efficiency.

How the data health center works

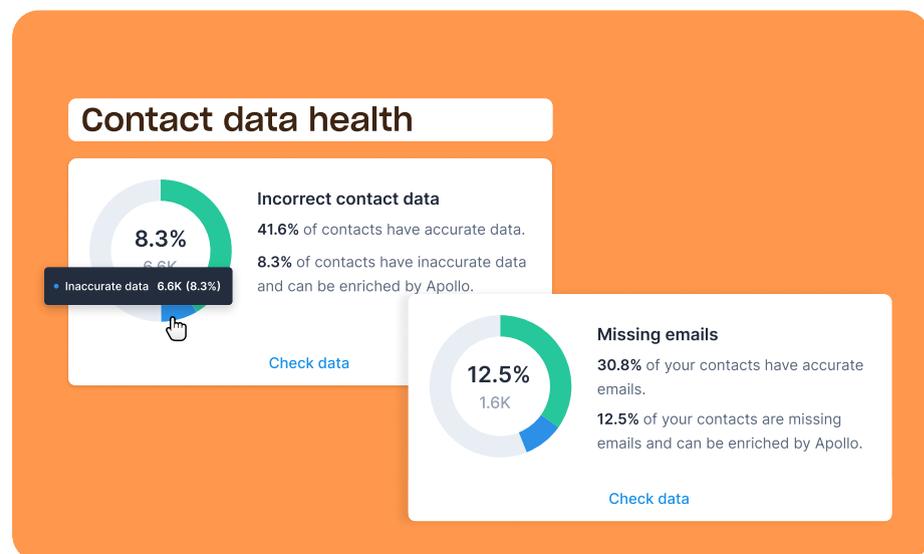

Connect your CRM, define your target market and instantly see your TAM

Run a total addressable market (TAM) analysis based on your existing CRM data, giving you an up-to-date TAM view at all times. Instantly identify new pockets of opportunities and take action to maximize your revenue potential.

Easily identify incorrect or missing data and update with fresh data

Track the percentage of incorrect or missing contact data in your CRM and the percentage of data that Apollo can update and enrich for you. Eliminate the frustration of dealing with outdated information and save time while maintaining data accuracy.

Schedule automatic enrichment and build a trusted CRM

Outdated and incorrect contact data lead to wasted time and results in lost opportunities and revenue. Ensure your CRM is up-to-date by scheduling automatic enrichment when fresh data becomes available. Save time and eliminate the frustration of manually managing your CRM.
